Wednesday, April 17. 1719.

Hague, April 16.

Tis said that in the Conference lately held here, between the Deputies of this State, and the respective Ministers of France and England, the Discourse turn'd upon the Report lately spread concerning the Camp of 25000 Men, which the King of Prussia is about to form in the Country of Cleves, and upon the Assistance to be look'd for those two Crowns in Case of Need, conformable to the defensive Alliance lately concluded. This Republick as 'tis thought having taken Ombrage, at the Formation of so considerable a Camp in their Neighbourhood, especially with Respect to the Province of Guelderland, which will be most expos'd to it, and is at the same time in but weak State. But 'tis hoped that this Jealousy is vanish'd, since the Arrival of Mr. Whitworth from the Court of Berlin, who was assur'd by that Court, that his Prussian Majesty comes to Cleves to no other purpose, than to make an exact Review of his Troops, desiring to have them compos'd of chosen Men. In the meantime the States Deputies invited on the 17th the Ministers of his Prussian Majesty to a Conference, in Order to terminate the Affair of the Arrests to the Satisfaction of his said Majesty.

The Deputies of their High Mightinesses Committee for military Affairs, having in Concert with those of the Council of State, examin'd the present State of the Frontier Fortresses of this Republick, especially those of Zurophen and Nimeguen, as also the State of the Magazine, and having made a Report of it to the States General, are come to these Resolutions.

1. That the States of Zealand, Holland, and Friesland, who still owe great Sums, upon the Article of the Fortifications, be oblig'd by the Force of the State, should be requir'd by writing, to shew that Debt as far as they are able without Delay; to the End that that Money may be employ'd in Repair of the said Fortresses of Nimeguen and Zurophen. And that to that purpose, it should be presented to them, the Necessity there is that the Fortifications of those Places, which are at present in a manner quite open, should be immediately repair'd, the rather, since that from the many Reports and Advices that have been received, the States have Reason to be uneasy and upon its Guard, which can never be too early; whereas the least Neglect in such Matters, may give Occasion for Repentance when it is too late. That it may in particular be represented to the States of Utrecht, how important it is for all their Province, that the said Places should be put into a State of Defence, seeing they ought to be look'd upon as two Bulwarks, that cover and put in Security that Province. Which was so much acknowledg'd by the States of Utrecht formerly, that they made Instances, and very much press'd the State, for the Fortifications of those two Places, especially that Nimeguen should be always kept in good Condition. For these Reasons their High Mightinesses hope, that those States will contribute all the requisite Means, especially by paying immediately the Sums they are in Arrear upon this Article of Fortification. That it be also represented to the States of Zealand and Friesland, that altho' the Places above-mentioned be more distanc'd from their Provinces, they are not the less concern'd in furnishing what they owe upon the Article of Fortification, considering the Importance those Places are of to all the State, as the Experience of former Wars has sufficiently shewn.

2. That the States of Zealand, Utrecht, and Friesland, who have not yet agreed to the Demand of a Million of Florins for the Fortifications that were made in 1709, should be requir'd to do it without Delay; or if the present Condition of their Finances does not permit it, that the States of all the Seven Provinces be oblig'd to consent, that the Moiety be negociated upon certain Funds, to be immediately employ'd to discharge the Debt in Arrear to the Undertakers, and those that furnished the Materials requisite for their Fortifications; and that the other Moiety be furnish'd in Specie, for proceeding immediately to the Repair of the same Fortifications.

3. That as the Service and Security of the State require, not only the Reparation of the aforesaid Fortifications, but also that the Magazines should be duly replenish'd, and provided with Artillery and Ammunition; the States of all the Provinces should be also requir'd to furnish immediately all that they owe upon that Article, and wherewith they are charg'd by the ordinary State of the War.

The said Deputies were further oblig'd to see if Means could not be found out, to go to work provisionally upon the said Fortifications forthwith, while the Money design'd for it are coming in, and to make their Report thereupon.

The Swedes having in the Course of 3 Years, taken about 300 Merchant Ships of Holland, the Publick are curious to know what Measures the States of Holland, who have been assembled ever since the 17th, will take to put a Stop to the Continuation and Increase of this Evil. The Deputies of the Admiralties are assembled also for that purpose. 'Tis pretended here, that there is some Reason to make a Prohibition of the Trade to Sweden, since the Trade thither prohibits it self, because nobody dares venture to send their Ships or Goods to that Kingdom.

The Carthagen will go to Day or To-morrow to Amsterdam to celebrate there the Festival of Easter, according to the Old Style.

The Magistrates of Amheim being very much to be acquitted of the Guard of Baron Gortz, M. Leathers has been in a Conference with the States Deputies, to agree upon a convenient Place, to which the said Baron and the Sieurs Stambke and Gyllemburg may be transported, whether to Louvestein, Bergen op Zoom, or such other Place in the Jurisdiction of the Generality, as their High Mightinesses shall think fit, to be strictly guarded, and all Access or Commerce by Letters be deny'd to him.

London, April 17.

Yesterday arrived a Mail from Holland, and a Mail from Flanders.

From the Amst. Gazette, dated April 23.

Dresden, April 14. The King of Poland arriv'd here the 12th in the Evening. 'Tis said his Majesty will set out To-morrow to go visit the Queen at Torgaw, and will afterwards go to Leip-sick, where 'tis believed he may arrive by the 18th or 19th. They write from Torgaw, that the Queen's Illness, which was thought to be a Dropsy, does not appear so bad as was feared. According to some Advices from Venice, the Prince Royal waits only the Return of an Officer he sent hither, to come back to Saxony.

From the Brussels Gazette.

Brussels, April 20. His Czarish Majesty supped on Friday last with the Marquis de Prié, where there was a fine Consort of Musick. Saturday he dined with the Duke of Holstein Ploen, and from thence went to the House of the Prince de la Tour and Taxis, to see the Curiosities. At his Return to the Park a fine Firework was plac'd off. And on Sunday Morning he departed from hence, and was saluted by the Cannon on our Ramparts. His Majesty propos'd to Dine at Alost, and to lye at Ghent; whither the Duke of Holstein Ploen and the Prince de la Tour and Taxis accompanied him, and are to wait upon his Majesty during the Time of his Continuance in the Dominions of his Imperial and Catholick Majesty.
